Mexican Strikers Charge Sheriff With Intimidation

CONSUL HILL RUSHES HERE TO PROTEST

International Complications Arise Over Strike in Orange Groves

BULLETIN
The following telegram from Mexican Consul Ricardo G. Hill was received this afternoon by Sheriff Logan Jackson:
"The consulate has received information that a group of Mexican laborers, upon their arrival for work at the Santiago packing house in that county were met by a group of your officers with guns and other arms, who tried to force them to go to work under the wage conditions set by the owners of said packing plant. Understand some of them refused to work but others resumed their jobs under the intimidation of your officers. As representative of the Mexican government and all Mexican workers, wish respectfully, but energetically, protest against such actions and beg you to give my nationals every constitutional right to which they are entitled under the laws of this country and the state of California."

THREE HUNTINGTON BEACH OIL WELLS SHUT DOWN BY STATE

HIGH TRIBUNAL DECIDES FITTS TO FACE TRIAL

State Supreme Court Rules District Attorney Legally Indicted

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—(UP)—The supreme court's ruling that Buron Fitts, Los Angeles district attorney, was indicted legally for perjury by the 1934 grand jury was believed here today to have settled by analogy similar issues in several other important cases.

Contention raised by Fitts' squad of attorneys, which was swept away by the decision, was that the indictment was illegal because it was voted by 11 grand jurors instead of 12, as they held was necessary. Subsequently the same objection was raised by Dave Allen, former Central Casting bureau chief, and Gloria Marsh, implicated in the famous Hollywood morals scandal.

The Marks politician accused of arson, and Mosier M. Meyer, city employee indicted in an alleged paving graft investigation, also availed themselves of the defense.

Cases Affected
Another case affected, and one in which the district attorney first invoked the issue, was the indictment of his brother-in-law, George Gregory, and nine other officers of the California Reserve corporation on charges of grand theft and violation of the stock selling and corporate security laws.

It was raised again shortly thereafter when Fitts and his sister-secretary, wife of George Gregory, were indicted on the perjury count.

The indictment resulted from testimony of the district attorney and his sister before a previous grand jury concerning sale of an orange grove at Claremont, Calif., by the Fitts family to Lucien C. Wheeler, former federal investigator who organized Fitts' bureau of investigation.

Wheeler Retained
At the time Wheeler was retained on a $10,000 fee in defense of John P. Mills in the "Hollywood love mart" case, the indictment charged Fitts and his sister testified they had no interest in sale of the grove property, and that later Fitts presented securities involved in the deal to obtain a loan from a bank.

In attacking the indictment Fitts' attorneys charged that Judge Fletcher Bowron was prejudiced against the district attorney, that he "hand-picked" the grand jury, and that he interviewed prospective grand jurors at secret sessions in his office.

The attack on the indictment was taken to the state supreme court after a Superior court ruling upheld it.

The grand jury subsequently returned a civil accusation against Fitts charging he failed properly to prosecute the "love mart" case, in which charges against Mills were dismissed on Fitts' request.

The Fitts perjury case was the second successive indictment of a Los Angeles county district attorney.

Asa Keyes, his predecessor, was convicted of bribery charges following the Julian Petroleum scandal. Keyes died at his home here after serving a term in San Quentin.

SHEARER SAYS HE ALONE IS RESPONSIBLE

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 30.—(UP)—District Attorney Otis T. Babcock of Sacramento said he would resume questioning William B. Shearer, California state cashier, today in an effort to clear up certain points in his confession that he embezzled $24,000.

Babcock was not satisfied with the confession. He was particularly insistent in questioning Shearer concerning alleged withdrawal of funds by unidentified state officials.

Shearer was equally adamant in countering: "I alone am responsible. I am ready to go back to California and face the consequences."

Talks at Length
The district attorney arrived yesterday to question the state cashier, arrested after he had been missing several weeks. Shearer talked at length about the trouble he encountered in the course of his duties.

Investigators found in his efforts receipts for oil stock with a face value of $7000. The stock was said to be promotional paper. Shearer indicated he hoped to realize enough from oil speculation to cover the shortage of his official accounts.

Shearer said he supported Charles Johnson, state treasurer of California, in a controversy over his former office as commissioner of weights and measures. About 10 years ago, he said, he had a short-

BOMBING PLANE CRASHES AND 5 ESCAPE DEATH

Huge Army Plane Plunges to Earth in Takeoff of Test Flight

DAYTON, O., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Major Ployer P. Hill, Wright Field, died today of injuries received when the giant Boeing bomber crashed while taking off here.

BULLETIN
A Boeing bombing plane, the largest of its type ever built in this country, crashed while taking off from Wright field during tests by the army air corps today and was destroyed by fire.

Five men were aboard the plane but only one was injured seriously, according to hospital reports. Most seriously hurt was Major Ployer Hill, test pilot for the army air corps. His condition was regarded as critical.

Others in the four-motored bomber, all of whom received minor injuries, were Leslie Tower, Seattle, Wash., representative of the Boeing company; Lieut. Donald L. Putty, of Wright field; John Cutting, Wright field, civilian observer, and Mark Cooglen, Wright field mechanic.

The bomber was believed to have crashed from an altitude of not more than 300 feet a few seconds after the take-off.

The Boeing bomber, along with similar aircraft built by the Glenn L. Martin and Douglas companies, had been undergoing government tests here for several weeks. The army air corps was to determine which was most suitable to its needs and select one for purchase in quantities.

The tests were believed nearing completion. Officers of the army air corps here immediately began an investigation of the cause of the crash.

MILLION DOLLAR LAW SUIT AGAINST C. C. CHAPMAN WILL BE TRIED HERE ON MONDAY

A million-dollar law suit is scheduled to be tried before a superior court jury here next Monday, as the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles seeks judgment for $1,191,901.47 against Charles C. Chapman, Fullerton orchardist, and various lesser amounts against others.

The action is based upon a secretly defaulted bonds of the Hotel Alexandria corporation, of Los Angeles, which holdings were acquired several years ago by the Santa Ysabel Land company, of Fullerton, a Chapman company. The suit is brought under the stockholders liability law.

Congressman Sam L. Collins, a relative of the Chapman family, will be associated with counsel for the defense, which also includes the Santa Ana firm of Drummond, Tucker, Martell and Drumm, the Los Angeles law firm, Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher, represents the bank.

The suit was filed more than a year ago, after $1,144,500 in bonds of the hotel corporation had allegedly been defaulted, to which claim was added $37,196.25 in interest.

The original bond issue was $1,350,000, secured by a trust deed on the hotel property executed May 1, 1927. Following the asserted default, a bondholder's committee was formed February 1, 1932, the complaint recites, and bonds of the hotel, worth $908,500 were deposited with the committee.

On June 10, 1930, the Santa Ysabel Land company, of Fullerton, acquired the Alexandria hold-

Wells Idle Pending Settlement of Dispute With State and Standard

SHUT DOWN by order of the state division of oil and gas three Huntington Beach oil wells today were idle while awaiting settlement of trespass disputes with the Standard Oil company and the state of California.

The Viceroy well at Twenty-second and Olive streets, first well to blaze a trail to the tide-land pool from the town lot, and first well in the world to demonstrate that directional oil well drilling can be successfully conducted, was the first of the three wells to be shut down, for encroaching on Standard Oil territory beneath Pacific Electric railway tracks.

The Standard Oil company claims the Viceroy well to be demonstrated by surveys to be bottomed partially under the rich Standard lease, and will be closed down until a definite royalty adjustment is made.

The Southern California Drilling company well, across the street from the Viceroy, and the Hamilton-Milburn well on the Dick Lewis lot in the same block also are shut down pending the agreement.

Suits filed by the state against the whiststock drillers a year ago resulted in a temporary shutdown of the slant wells. They were allowed to drill in state-owned property when a division of royalty was affected.

A total of 80 whiststock wells are being operated at the present time from the tide-land pool, bringing in a gross annual revenue of approximately $3,000,000.

Owners of the wells are confident that an adjustment with the conflicting claimants will be effected soon. The matter has been in dispute for the past 60 days.

The Viceroy well was the first hole to crawl under the fence of derricks drilled by Standard Oil along the Pacific Electric right of way, precipitating the bitter battle over the unbelievably rich ocean pools which reached its height in the last session of the state legislature.

No operators could be found today to hazard an opinion as to the probable outcome of the dispute.

COURT TAKES BABE AWAY FROM MOTHER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 30.—(UP)—An exceptional court scene was enacted here today when Special Commissioner Rush Limbaugh, hearing the famous St. Louis baby mystery case, ordered the baby taken from Mrs. Nellie Tipson Muench, who claims it is a "gift of God" born to her in August.

Mrs. Muench, charged by unwed Anna Ware of Pennsylvania with having obtained Miss Ware's baby to "palm off" on the world as her own, screamed and cried out in protest at the court's command.

She was ejected from the courtroom.

Purpose of the order was to place the child in the children's home for an examination to determine its parentage.

PROPOSES EXPENDITURE OF $836,400 ON TWO SEWAGE WATER RECLAMATION PLANTS

CONSTRUCTION of two plants to reclaim sewage water in Orange county will be proposed in a report to be made by Harry N. Jenks, Berkeley, noted engineer who has had charge of the experimental plant here on West First street, to the board of supervisors in the near future. The two plants would cost about $836,400.

Jenks, speaking at a meeting of joint outfall sewer system, which is one of the longest in the world, he declared.

The speaker said that the proposal to erect permanent sewage reclamation works here has been proved feasible and economical by the experiments at the local plant. The costs of the reclaimed water would run from $14 to $21 an acre foot, depending on much the water is treated and where it is delivered, according to George Bates, of the sewage reclamation committee. The water which would be saved now passes out into the Pacific ocean through the outfall sewer.

Jenks, aided by Gordon Beisel, of the junior college who has helped him with his experiments here, showed pictures of sewage reclamation plants in England, Germany and the United States, telling the various methods of disposing of the solids in the water and of purifying the liquids. Forces of nature are used in the treatments, he said, with nothing added to the water to be reclaimed.

The ultimate aim in the proposed program, the engineer said, is to reclaim 11,200 acre feet of water a year with the plants, which would reclaim 6700 acre feet of water annually in the plan now set up. Extensions to the plan now proposed would result in the increased savings of water, he said.

Jenks said that part of the expense of operating the plants would be met by the sale of the sludge obtained. Nearly enough power to operate the plants could be obtained from the gasses collected in the reclamation work, he said. Operation of the permanent plants would save costs of operating the

CROPS SUFFER IRISH SWEEPS AS NORTHWEST PAY BIG SUMS IN STORM GRIP

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30.—(UP)—Crop damage was being counted in millions today as the Pacific Northwest was held in the grip of the coldest October weather in history.

Unestimable damage had been done to fruit trees, particularly apples and pears in which the sap still is running. Fig trees and other tender shrubs were in many instances killed. Damage to late vegetables such as cauliflower and lettuce was estimated to run high and heavy loss is expected to be found in potatoes.

Two deaths in Seattle were attributed indirectly to the cold wave.

Temperatures ranged downward to six degrees below zero at Helena, Mont., and even on the immediate Pacific Coast freezing weather was reported. This was the first time the temperature ever had been that low on the coast. Freezing temperatures along the Pacific ocean in this altitude are exceedingly rare.

Sub-freezing temperatures were general throughout Northern Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Portland had a minimum of 29 degrees today, Seattle, 31, Tacoma 26 and Spokane 14.

Lowest temperatures were reported east of the Cascades where minimum readings included: Kailash, 4, Burns, Ore., 12, Baker, Ore., 16, Lakeview, Ore., and Walla Walla, Wash., 18, Yakima, Wash., 24.

Newport, Ore., and Tatoosh Island, Wash., both on the ocean beach, had lows of 32 degrees.

ETHIOPIANS ATTEMPT TO HALT DRIVE

Italians Reported to Have Penetrated Within 35 Miles of Makale

BULLETIN
DIBOUTI, FRENCH SOMALILAND, Oct. 29.—(Delayed)—(UP)—Authoritative information reaching here from three Ethiopian war zones indicates the Ethiopians are gambling everything on a drive to gain a decisive and early victory over Italy in Ogaden province in the south.

(Copyright 1935 by United Press)
ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 30.—(UP)—A major battle between Ethiopian and Italian forces was in progress today on the Ogaden front, according to reports circulating in Addis Ababa.

Advices from the northern front indicated Ethiopian commanders there have not much hope of retaking towns now in the hands of the Italian invaders, especially where the Italians have had time to consolidate their new positions.

Although the advance guard of the Italians is reported to have penetrated within 35 miles of Makale, the northward movements of Ethiopian troops counted upon to check the southward drive of the troops commanded by Gen. Emilio de Bono has not been completed.

Experts here fear this delay may enable the Italians to fortify the strategic points they have occupied so strongly that hope of retaking them would be slim. It is pointed out the Ethiopian defenders are not even equipped with tools needed to cope with barbed wire entanglements.

They are further handicapped by the inadequacy of their communications, which is hampering rapid concentrations of the Negus's troops. An illustration of how imperfect these communications are was furnished by the fact it took four days for news from Italian bombing of Magalo to reach the capital.

Two hundred Nagadis — merchants and caravanmen — presented themselves at the royal palace today, riding caparisoned mules and bearing bulging sakkuffs of silver thalers which they donated to the emperor to help fight the war. The total of their gifts was $5,000 thalers.

Tecla Hawariat, who surrendered his dual diplomat post as Ethiopian minister to France and his country's spokesman before the League of Nations to return and join Ethiopia's fighting forces, may embark upon an "important foreign mission of brief duration" before taking over a military command, probably on the Ogaden front, it was reported reliably today.

The report followed a conference between the emperor and Hawariat at which the latter traced developments in Ethiopia foreign policy as they have been viewed in Europe.

STRENGTH
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The background behind the current business improvement appears to be solid. There are no seasonal surges in particular lines to make them stand out temporarily like roses in October. Nor are there quicksands and holes marking lags and declines.

The bas relief map of business is smoother than at any time since the depression started. It appears to have balance and strength beyond any discernible in five years.

At least this is the obvious conclusion from the government's own business chart, which attempts to balance business like a carpenter's level.

SCALES
The chart indicates industrial production now is around 91 per cent normal, which is just about the same relation to normality existing last January. But what is different now is that, since January, factory employment has improved from 80 to 82; payrolls from 64 to 74; department store sales 72 to 82; building 27 to 43; prices 73.8 to 80.6.

In simple words, the basis for further improvement has been laid. Bigger payrolls mean the people will have more money to buy. When this factor is coupled with a brisk improvement in store sales, a five months' strong rise in residential building and firmer prices, it means that all the current business uplift stories really have something behind them at last.

It indicates that production should not now fall off next month as it fell for four months after the January high.

CHART
The trend since the first of the year, and earlier comparative figures, may be traced in the chart which follows. Each figure represents the percentage of normality existing at the times stated. Normal is the average for 1923-25, except for prices, which are based on 1926. Each figure is seasonally adjusted.

STATUS

What has happened specifically to fill in the business gaps lately is the improvement in durable goods. There was no sign of a let-up in their depression until June. Since then, machine tools have picked up, as have cement, lumber, all building materials. Also cotton consumption troubles are being smoothed over. That index was up 10 points from 85 in August to 95 in September. Official figures will shortly be issued showing a further increase in October.

Iron and steel activity continues fairly strong in an extra-seasonal range. There will be no substantial decrease in steel because automobile production now is moving fast. Auto output for October will be twice that of September.

Little change has been noticeable in bituminous coal production. Anthracite is up with a belated seasonal rise. Non-durable goods like tobacco show no change. Shoes and shoes registered seasonal increases during the month.

PATERNAL
New Yorkers with excellent Mexican contacts get a snicker out of President Cardenas' appeal for foreign capital. He is keen for Mexican industrial expansion and local capital isn't adequate for the purpose. To that extent he's undoubtedly sincere. But comment runs that it will take more than Latin eloquence to coax more American dough into a country so beset with radical labor legislation.

Financial men associated with Mexican enterprises say that labor paternalism has run riot under Cardenas. It isn't an insuperable handicap—but it's certainly no inducement to fresh investments.

SHIFTS
Observers say the doctors who are trying to prescribe for King Cotton should note the figures on world cotton consumption for the past six years.

An expert analysis shows—comparing '28-'29 with '34-'35—that consumption has declined 45 per cent in Czechoslovakia; 32 per cent in Germany; 24 per cent in the United States; 22 per cent in Italy; 18 per cent in France and 15 per cent in Britain. At the same time it has gone up 18 per cent in Russia; 22 per cent in Japan; 25 per cent in China; and 50 per cent in India.

These figures are based on the world cotton supply—not just the American. They indicate clearly that production of cotton textiles is shifting to low cost countries.

PURE
New Yorkers associated with commodity exchanges are furious at the Chicago Board of Trade. Their fears that its action in lowering margin requirements to encourage speculation would bring the New Dealers down on their innocent necks seem likely to be realized. Already they detect signs that they are under closer scrutiny from Washington and hints of federal regulation are flowing in from all directions. The boys are striving to be purer than the driven snow to offset the Chicago faux pas.

SURPRISED
Houses specializing in federal securities virtually suspended operations the day before Secretary Morgenthau held his first press conference after his return. The reassuring words of Undersecretary Jeff Coolidge about future government financing were forgotten. They sort of figured he might spring another auction on them—which would probably have dented prices—so they figured it would be wise to have as few governments on their shelves as possible. They were both pleased and surprised when he didn't even mention auctions.

Auxiliary Told Of Health Seals
COSTA MESA, Oct. 30.—The local American Legion auxiliary had as speaker at this week's meeting, Mrs. Florence Holmes, of Santa Ana, who gave a talk on the work of the Orange County Tuberculosis association. She pointed out the aims and accomplishments of the organization, dwelling especially on the Christmas Seal project and urging that this year's seal sales be given the hearty support of the public.

Proceeding the address, a short business session was held, at which time Judy Wilcox reported a net profit of $18 from a recent dinner that the unit sponsored as a benefit affair. Mrs. John F. Webster, president of the T. A., announced that the organization is sponsoring a Halloween carnival at the Woman's clubhouse Thursday evening to which the public is invited. All are to come in Halloween costume, she announced, and one feature of the program will be given to dancing by the adults.

Mrs. Arden Long was admitted into the auxiliary membership. Guests were Mrs. John Jones, Leo Payne, Legion commander; Emmett Allain, Legion adjutant; Robert C. Fisher, John Jones and J. C. Payne.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOLLOWING COUNTY METHODIST SESSIONS STRESS EFFORTS FOR PEACE

Active promotion for peace, greater equality for women in church administration, and the institution of budgets for all church agencies after the community chest pattern were among the outstanding recommendations in the final report of the findings committee which drew to a close yesterday afternoon the two-day world service conference of Orange County Methodists in the First M. E. church.

The report, submitted by Dr. George Warner, chairman of the group, offered specific recommendations for more world-outlook information in all sermons, wider use of maps, inter-visitation among racial and institutional churches, afternoon and evening parties for fellowship and world service, groups, panel discussions on current problems, development of coordinating councils to see that no interests are overlooked in the educational program, and the study of projects affording an expressive outlet of emotions.

Summarizing the talks heard by various distinguished visitors during the convalescence, the committee stressed the expressed desire of the national State Department for the church to assist in promoting peace. The church must foster counter pressures against the military-minded at once, the report stated, pointing out that the peace of six months ago is for a period of now pressures are being advanced against its successful administration.

The concluding address was delivered by the Rev. Abel Eklund, missionary from Malaya now on furlough, who pled for increased faith and united religious efforts. "Means not only money-giving but Christian living," he commented on the vast number of languages in which the Bible has not yet been translated, in urging further extension of church work, and said there was still "need for the stabilizing of foreign missionaries" in Oriental and African areas particularly.

'Getting His Goat' Is Police Matter
It was literally true today when police said "Somebody got his goat" referring to Yussuf Esquedo, of Elumet street in Delhi. The Mexican reported that his white milk goat, with long curved horns, was stolen from the barn last night. "The harness was there but the goat was gone" he told officers.

BROKEN BONES BESET CHILD
McKEES ROCKS, Pa., (UP)—Four-year-old Betty Sheaffer is known as the "tumbling baby" of McKees Rocks. She has suffered two broken legs, two broken wrists and one broken shoulder bone. The slightest fall or twist and a bone gives way.

MAN ARRESTED FOR STEALING CURRENT
Charged with stealing electricity from the Edison company lines, Harold Rowe, 34, clerk, of 426 East Pine street, was arrested on Riverside street at 8 o'clock last night and lodged in the county jail.

Rowe had a "gadgets" police said, which he was offering for sale for $10, which aided in switching wires so that electricity could be stolen. A sale of $10 was actually made, police said, at the time officers were "staked out" on the case. He gave a demonstration of his device, it is reported, forming the basis for the charge of stealing current.

Stealing electricity is a violation of Section 499-A of the penal code, a misdemeanor.

NARROW ESCAPE AS BULLET HITS AUTO
Roy A. Moore, of 107 Hathaway street, Santa Ana, narrowly escaped death at 8 o'clock last night when a bullet crashed through the windshield of his car, as he drove near First and Flower streets, he reported to officers.

Small boys in the neighborhood or boys in a passing car are believed by officers to have been responsible. The bullet was fired from a .22 caliber gun, investigation showed.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30.—There's at least one cemetery in the world that doesn't frighten people, no matter how dark the night may be. That's the Hollywood cemetery just behind the Paramount studio. A 14-foot fence was built across the back of the studio to keep out dozens of curious persons who went through the cemetery at night and scaled the old six-foot fence, to explore the film shop.

Sticky Shave
How would you like to have your face covered with white, sticky meringue such as you find on pies? That's what they use in the movies. Instead of soapy lather, when a scene calls for a man to be shaved. Soap can't be used because it dries too quickly under the hot studio lights.

Madhouse
A high studio executive telephoned a sound stage the other day to find out how the picture was progressing. He's still looking for the wise-cracker who answered the phone with, "This is psychopathic ward No. 6."

Well, She Needed the Dough!
Hollywood is enjoying a good laugh at the expense of one of its leading feminine stars. With the release of her latest picture recently, a local paper carried a special advertising supplement. On one stage the star had endorsed a particular brand of bread, and on the other her endorsement was on a fat-reducing bread substitute.

Nearing the Rocks
After four years of married life, Helen Twelvrees and Frank 15. Woody are on the verge of calling it quits. The actress probably will retain custody of their 3-year-old son, Jack.

Replacements
Whenever large musical routines are being filmed, you always can find three or four costumed girls sitting just out of camera range. They're the substitutes who must be ready to replace any girl who turns an ankle, or for some other reason can't go on with the dance.

The submarine is regarded as a modern invention, but the first one was built in England in 1620. It was a wooden shell, covered with leather, and navigated by 12 rowers.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

RESERVED FOR 100 YEARS

IN the stuffy, somber depths of a huge black and red granite mausoleum, lies the embalmed body of Nicolai Lenin, first dictator of Soviet Russia, who died in 1924. Covered by a tent-like glass case, his body has been viewed by 3,000,000 people, while under constant guard.

Because of fears that the body might disintegrate, two leading Soviet scientists treated it with a secret formula by which, they say, Lenin will remain exactly as he was alive for another 100 years or more. Further to preserve the remains of Russia's idol, air-conditioning equipment is to be installed, so that the warm currents of air set in motion by the incessant line of visitors might not injure the body.

The stamp shown below, pictures Lenin's tomb. It was issued in 1934.

New ideas in afternoon, dinner and evening wear favor velvets which seem to be especially suitable for slim gowns, full and draped treatments which gain charm from the supple drape, luxurious sheen and supple textures of modern velvets.

They're really smart — Classic brims and little rollers have been the biggest fashion of the season to wear with all your sports and daytime clothes. Of myriad colors.

It just goes to show how far advanced this modern world has become! We used to polish our high black boots with stove polish and were glad to get the shine. And who of us hasn't employed the slippery banana peeling to rub up our best brown brogues? Ah me, and look now at the array of nice colored polishes and unguents these industrious shiners use to brighten up our shoes. The world moves on.

THE TINYMITES

Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

Up to the pumpkin Goldy ran, the inside of the thing to scan. "My goodness," she soon shouted. "It's as cute as it can be."

"The old witch has a dandy bed where she can rest her weary head, and there are lots of other things. Come, peek right in and see."

The whole bunch promptly crowded round and then they heard a funny sound. "It's from inside the pumpkin," said wee Duncy. "Gee, let's run."

"I guess we have no business here. The witch was fooling us, I fear. Besides, just peeking into windows isn't any fun."

And then the pumpkin door flew out and they all heard a shrill voice shout. "Oh, do not run away, tots. Everything will be all right."

"While inside here, I moved around nad that's what made that funny sound. I did not know that it was going to fill you all with fright."

"Aw, I'm not scared one little bit. 'Twas Duncy. He near threw a fit," laughed Dotty. "You said you would tell us more about this land."

"Of course I will," the witch replied. "Just gather 'round, right by my side. I'll tell you. Then there's work to do, and you can lend a hand."

"Of course you all, on Hallowe'en, a lot of pumpkin men have seen. Well, lots of them come right from here. I carve them out myself."

"Tomorrow night I'll send a d through the air, their funny pranks to do. Now, who will help me bring them out here? They are on a shelf."

"We all will," little Duncy cried. "You stay here while we dash in-side. If you carved all the faces, you are tired. Just rest a while."

The Tinymites ran in and out and had a lot of fun, no doubt. Soon all the pumpkin heads were out and stacked up in a pile.

(The pumpkin heads float away in the next story.)

World-Wide News Events Told In Pictures

Smiling with good reason were Madame Secretary Frances Perkins and William Green, American Federation of Labor head, when the camera caught them at the annual convention of the A. F. of L. in Atlantic City, N. J. Miss Perkins had just informed the labor chief that recovery was well on its way, with encouraging reports from most of the major industries.

Showing Glider Pilot a High Time

The load-lifting possibilities of a free balloon were demonstrated at the dirigible training school of the Soviet army near Moscow, when one ascended 12,000 feet with a glider and pilot in tow. Borodin, Russian glider ace, soared back to earth when his plane was released.

Decide to Band Together

Harriet Hilliard, singer, and Ozzie Nelson, noted orchestra leader, have decided to climax their three year's association as star entertainers with marriage. They're shown engaged in a bit of athletic courting after taking out the license for their marriage, which was to be performed at the home of Nelson's mother in Hackensack, N. J.

Modern Exterior Dignity

Above is shown "before and after" views of a Massachusetts bank which underwent an exterior modernization recently. Several improvements were made in the plan and general appearance of the structure. The entire exterior was faced with cut limestone, and the former outmoded appearance of the building is now supplanted by an atmosphere of modern dignity. Such modernization projects may be carried out with funds obtained under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration. Full information may be obtained at any local office or by writing the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C.

The national game of allmomy, Mrs. Kathryn S. Drohojowicz, is defendant in a suit in which her husband, Jan Drohojowicz, Polish count, seeks $200 a month, $10,000 counsel fees and court costs. Suit was filed in Los Angeles.

An Italy Avenged! Huge Milan Throng Hails Capture of Aduwa

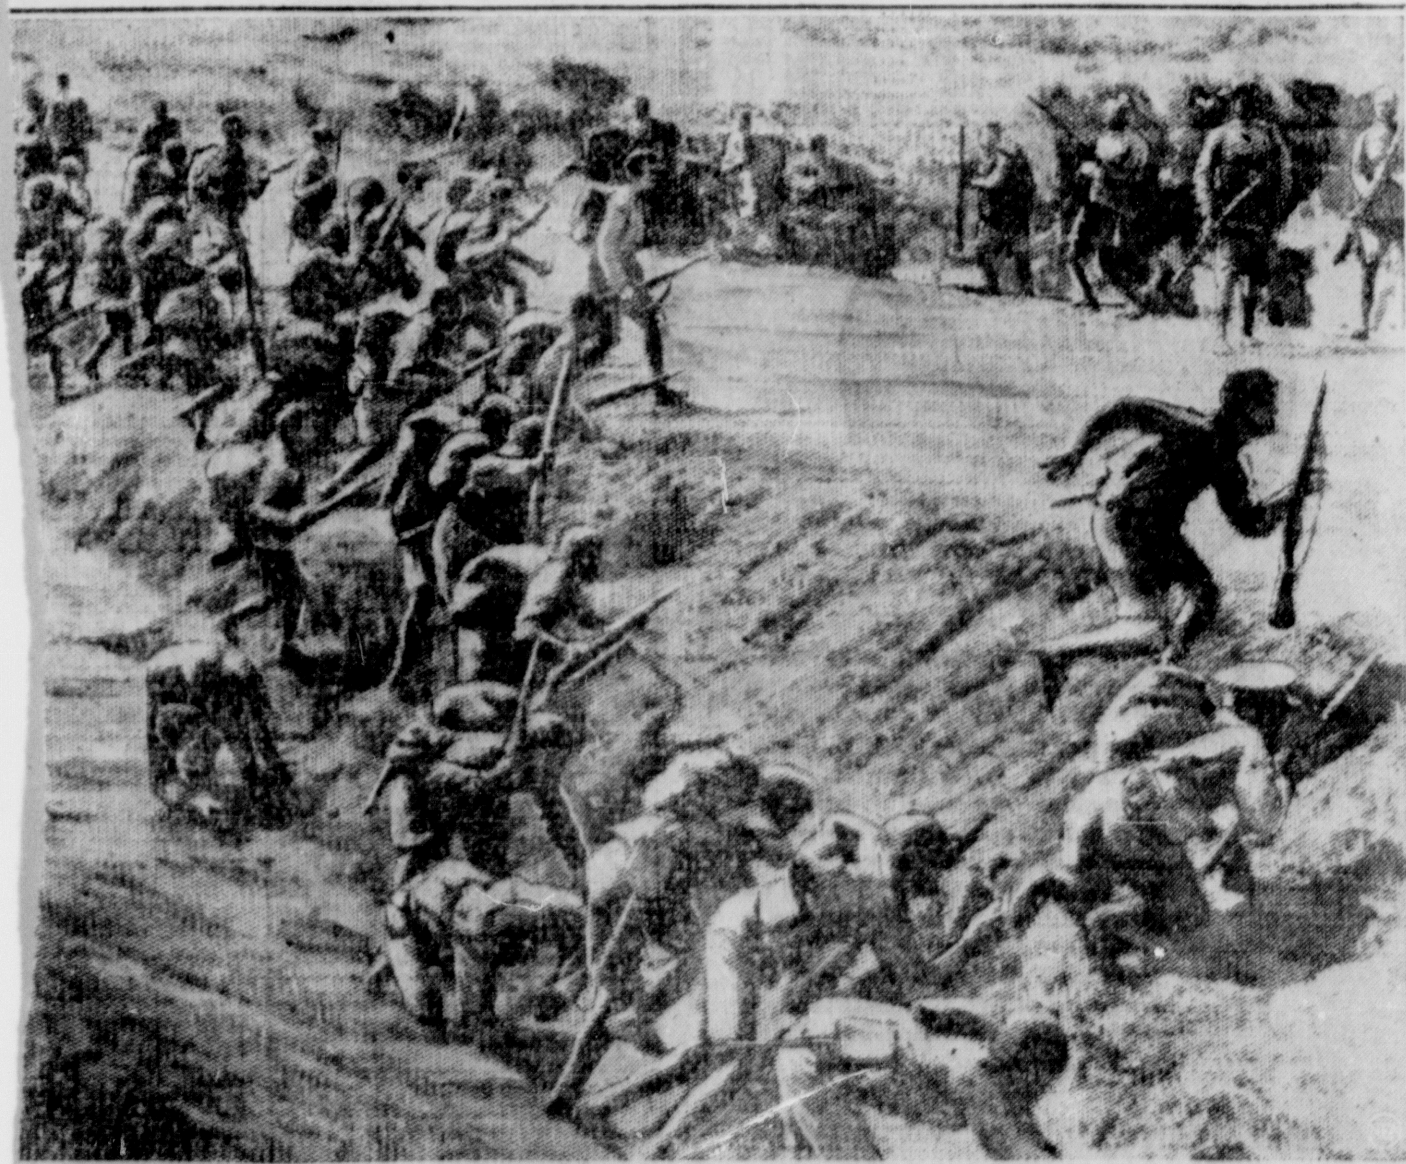

Impressive testimonial of Italy's mad jubilation over the capture of Aduwa, avenging her galling defeat at the hands of Ethiopians 39 years ago, is this scene in the Cathedral Square, at Milan, where a great, torch-lighted throng massed to hail "Il Duce" and join their voices in a vast, reverberating paean of triumph. Capture of Aduwa, in northern Ethiopia, dispelled the shadow which had clouded military Italy since Feb. 29, 1896, when a horde of Ethiopian tribesmen overwhelmed and massacred 17,700 troops under General Baratieri.

Mrs. Hoover in Scout Conclave

Ever active in the work of the Girl Scouts, Mrs. Herbert Hoover is shown in the center of a group of executives at the national convention of Girl Scouts of America started in San Francisco.

AIR RAID!" SENDS ETHIOPIANS SCURRYING FOR SAFETY or spread among Ethiopian troops by air raids is vividly portrayed in this picture rushed to America by plane and radio from the front, 30 miles south of Harrar. The roar of exploding bombs dropped by the swift bombing planes of the Italian army is enough to send the native troops scurrying from their trench (at left) to scatter themselves widely in the surrounding fields.

ETHIOPIANS FIGHT OFF ATTACKING ITALIAN PLANES

Although their infantrymen comrades scatter before the menace of Italian air raids, the anti-aircraft gunners of the Ethiopian army give excellent account of themselves, as witness reports of bullets scoring hits on the plane of Bruno Mussolini, Italian dictator's son. Here the daring news cameraman portrays Ethiopian machine gunners pouring bullets skyward against planes raiding their camp on the Ogaden front. The smoking gun spouts death as four gunner's aide lie on the ground and others (right) huddle up with ammunition.
